

suggest a link | rss | archives | store | mark | cory | david | xeni | john

Thursday, December 8, 2005

Chair for parents of toddlers

As the parent of a two-year-old, I spend an inordinate amount of time sitting on the floor, playing with her. After about five minutes, my back and hips are stiff and burning. The Salubrion Chair, designed to support your lumbar, looks like it might be just the ticket. Of course, I'll have to buy two of them, because my daughter will insist on sitting in it when we play.

Link